THURSDA, NOVEMBER 12, 1863.

TEA-TABLE TALK.

Our fair readers have all heard of Anonyma, the fearless horse-breaker who caused such a sensation in Rotten Row and Bois dè Boulogne, surpassing the Queen of Naples in her dashing deportment as a centaur. Every effort to discover her name or history proved fruitless, and hence the epithet by which she went, till she finally disappeared, like a comet, without leaving a trace behind, except her luminous trail of admirers. Well, we fancy R. B. is such another. Eighteen suitors cast themselves at her feet, in answer to her invitation in our columns, and although she has sent several replies, we believe her incognita is complete. The assignation in yesterday's paper is in our idea a practical joke, for the usual little Spanish boy did not bring the notice to the office, and it is unlikely she would choose the Hole in the Mole for a rendezvous, or invite all the correspondents to pass muster together. More probably she has already selected the 'happy man,' and can afford to laugh at a spurious R. B.

Paul Jullien is performing wonders on his fiddle at Colon, and as music is decidedly at a premium in B. Ayres, many of the city belles ring his praises. His connection with the Dramatic Company is, in some manner, a mesulliance, and if a concert could be got up he would be much more successful. Nevertheless, it is well worth while for even those who cannot relish the drama to hear him draw such inspiring strains from one string of catgut. We regret that he only gives two more performances, and as the new Opera Company has not yet arrived, his departure will leave us dependent on the capricious charity of our English or German musical fraternities. To-morrow night the Glee Club gives a performance, we believe, at the Scotch school; but the audience will be so recherché that we can hardly call it public.

The French paper mentions a droll occurrence, last week, of a well-known fop, who, in playing Romeo over a garden wall at midnight, was unlucky enough to fall and break his leg: the servants of the house, aroused by the noise, and naturally taking him for a burglar, gave him a most unmerciful pommelling, after which he was lodged in the Policia, but liberated next morning on finding he was a "most respectable" party. A worse fall, however, was that of the poor German music-master, who, in a fit of temporary insanity, precipitated himself from the balcony of Café Amistad, and was picked up a mangled corpse; his last words were "tell my wife to sell the piano for $15.000, and that her rent is paid up to next January."

Burying alive is now becoming so frequent that we shall shortly think very little of it. We have a second case related by the "Progres," as occurring on last Sunday. Indeed it is a Hibernian figure of speech to say "buried alive," for in both cases the mistake was discovered before interment; and the city hospital is blamed for both. The sexton's denial of Mrs B.'s case was believed by few, as he was evidently most interested in concealing the faux pas. But in justice we must say that a medical friend, who admits the accident of Mrs. B. (from the women's hospital), declares that the last case did not come from the hospital

Our American friends give a pic-nic on Wednesday at Palermo, as usual with the Rev. Mr. Goodfellow's congregation every year. If we judge not amiss, it is a mixture of innocent recreation and religious sentiment, somewhat resembling the Agapae or love-feasts of the early Christians over the martyrs' tombs. We have seen a report of the American clergyman, wherein he even preserves the term "love-feasts," and we suppose this is the same. We do not see why the other congregations do not imitate this good example.

The hot weather having now set in, every one is hurrying to the suburbs in quest of some Rus in Urbe, where fresh air, the shade of a few trees, and enough grass for a horse, may answer his views of earthly felicity. Wise people took 'quintas' in mid-winter, for the rents now demanded are exorbitant. Whitfield's quintas and the 'barranca' cottages along the Northern Railway, as well as summer-houses in Belgrano, are either all occupied, or dearer than town residences. Moreover, the fares on that railway are so high, that a season ticket to S. Isidro, precludes the possibility of living on anything but the charming scenery, if we venture so far. Those who have nothing to do in town, remove to S. Fernando or Las Conchas for a few months, and we recommend this locality for parties spending the honey moon, if they do 't fear getting tedious. Flores and that direction are at a discount, yet cheap fares and nominal rents give it an advantage in L. S. D., and there are charming green lanes in the neighbourhood. Barracas would be desirable, from its proximity and flower-gardens, that but at times the saladeros emit such a fearful stench, as to kill poetry, meditation, and rural enjoyment, obliging people to stop within closed doors; and then the Calle Larga is famous for dust and youthful snobs, of an evening. Quilmes is a desert, wild as the apothecary, who is the magnate of the place, and seemingly retaining a savage character from the Indians of that name who founded the village. A few adventurous patres-familias are beginning to colonise the Lomas de Zamorra, and this, no doubt will become a favourite outlet when the Great Southern Railway shall be open so far.

We have been requested by the Editor of the projected English Magazine to invite our Anglo-Porteña friends to contribute. Some are known to be of a poetic turn, others are incipient bas bleus whose opinions on the literature of the day would be entertaining, and perhaps instructive: in fine, a field is now opened to the development of female talents.

Private theatricals were lately given at an English or rather Irish house with unusual felicity, and the taste for the buskin now springing up among juvenile merchants is very promising. Parties are out of fashion, dancing being an impossibility: there was a 'tertulia, last week in the S. end at a respectable native house, and the Progreso ball, in honor of S. Martin, comes off on Tuesday night.

Messrs MacKern advise us of a large invoice of books just received from Ireland, by which we must understand that Hibernian literature is in the ascendant. The sale of Hinchliff's and Rickard's works shews a taste for everything treating of this country. Mr Bliss's report of the Gran Chaco, in our last weekly, is certainly one of the most interesting treatises we have read, and calls attention to that 'terra incognita'.

Mr. Drabble's sale of colored prints offers a fine opportunity for procuring handsome artistic decorations for parlors and drawing-rooms. We have not heard how Moore, Punch and Tudor's sale of engravings went off. The fine arts are progressing amongst us.

In marriages, we have only to note that of a native estanciero, of 25 de Mayo, with a charming daughter of calle Victoria. The season for promenades has commenced: the mole is crowded every evening, and a band of music plays in the Plaza Victoria. On holidays we have music in all the city promenades.

Wednesday will be a strict holiday, being the festival of St. Martin, bishop of Tours, patron of this city. He was uncle to St. Patrick, on which account Irishmen and Porteños ought to feel related in some manner as 'compadres'. St. Ignatius, founder of the Jesuits was formerly patron of B. Ayres, but Rosas deposed him, when he expelled those benefactors to the country.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The camps between Carmen de Areco and Arrecifes, are in excellent condition, and the thistles quite high. It has rained heavily out there, and also far south, but nearer town they are very dry, and rain is badly wanted.

Dr. Dn. Carlos J. Alvarez has been named by the Government, Secretary of the University.

Congress has at last passed the law respecting the floating debt of the nation. National creditors must now repair before the committee with their claims, which, if passed, will entitle them to receive 6 per cent. Bonds.

We publish, in another column, a list of foreigners who are entitled to receive bonds in payment of their claims against the Montevidean Government. We think it right to remark that Mr. Letsom, the Consul, did not take the trouble to send us the list; we received it from an English resident, who thinks that the proper place to publish such a list is in the 'Standard.'

Governor Saavedra is beginning to find himself in rather an unpleasant predicament. He has called a general meeting, or session, of both Houses of the Legislature. But, it appears, that the members will not meet. Meanwhile, the budget of the province has not yet been passed; the consequence is, that no man will be obliged to pay next year's taxes: the Governor, his Ministers, and clerks cannot be paid their salaries, as there will not be a 'shot in the locker' Our Finance Minister is writhing with indignation at the coolness with which the Chamber treats the matter.

The Treaty with Spain has been at last arranged, and yesterday appeared in the 'Nacion Argentina.' It is altogether too long for publication in the 'Standard,' and possesses but slight interest for our English readers.

The Chilian steamer expected from England, it is thought, will arrive in Montevideo to-morrow. She brings five days later news than the next English mail.

We receive repeated complaints about the present state of the old market. The meat which the butchers sell is for the most part what is termed 'cansado;' the vegetables are kept on sale from one day to another, and watered up every morning to have a fresh look; the stalls are in a most filthy state, and the whole place requires a thorough cleaning, now that the hot weather is setting in. We have it from a most experienced medical man that the effluvia arising from decomposed matter infests the atmosphere in that locality, and is highly dangerous to the health of the city. We trust that the Board of Health will see to this matter. A little lime and water might, if used in time, save us from an epidemic.

Dn. Sebastian Casares, W. Acevedo, and José Herrera, have been named by the National Government to construct the new wharf at the Boca.

We regret to record a sad accident which occurred on Friday in an English machine-yard. A little boy, who was playing in the yard, happened to touch the frame of a large window which was lying in the yard: it fell upon the poor child and crushed him. When extricated he was almost lifeless, and expired immediately.

We understand that half the young men in town will make their appearance on the mole this evening, in order to have a glimpse at the fair R. B., who has promised to be at the hole in the mole at seven o'clock.

Two steamers arrived yesterday from Montevideo. It is rumoured that they are barricading the outlets, as Flores is said to be marching on the city.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

It is rumoured that all the projects for supplying water to the city have been thrown out, the Municipals being of opinion that all the schemes sent in are faulty. Moreover, it is the municipal belief that the rain is coming, and no sewerage or water supply can rival the beneficial effects of the roaring torrents through our streets. Buenos Ayres is so advantageously situated that no artificial supply of water is necessary. It is the popular belief that the dirty River Plate water acts as a narcotic upon the population, and that our constitutions are so accustomed to this 'perilous stuff' that clean water would do us real harm. Mr. Murray's scheme for making a canal from Las Conchas to the city is regarded as altogether too expensive.

Mr. Davis's scheme is regarded as antiquated and useless; in fact, there are some objections put forward to each and every one of them; and the result is, we shall have no clean water this summer in Buenos Ayres.

IMPORTANT DECREE.

The National Debt.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 6, 1863.

Art. 2. The liquidation or investigation of said claim being verified by the assessor, it shall be transmitted to the accountant-general's office, taking a receipt therefor in a book.

Art. 3. The Accountant-General shall grant Provisional bonds or certificates to the bearer for principal and interest, in accordance with the Article 4 of this law, destroying the vouchers, and taking receipts from [illegible] assessor.

Article 4. The citizen Don Juan Cruz O'Campo is hereby named assessor, with a salary of 120 silver dollars, who shall demand the clerks he may require.

Art. 5. Let it be communicated, published and archived.

MITRE,
RUFINO DE ELIZALDE.

THE BOCA.

We are happy to say that this little but important place is greatly improving; new houses are going up on all sides, land is becoming of immense value, and population is increasing. The National Government has, in view of the increasing commerce of the place, ordered that the wharf or mole shall be extended 150 yards on both sides of the river. This will prove of the greatest possible service to the shipping interest, as formerly vessels had to lie in the Riachuelo for days and days, waiting for room to discharge, and frequently obliged to unload over an other vessel. About two months ago we called the attention of the Government to the necessity of building sheds or depots, as the damage done to goods when it rains is frightful. Along the proposed new mole it is advisable that sheds should be erected, in order to protect perishable goods from the weather; these sheds could be built at a very trifling cost, and would be of the greatest possible utility. We hope that the Government Engineer who undertakes the construction of the wharf. will call the attention of the Government to this very important requirement.

HIGHWAY ROBBERS.

We read in the "Nacion Argentina" of yesterday the following alarming intelligence concerning the neighbourhood of Sanborombon: "We have seen a letter from Sanborombon, in which the particulars are given of a robbery which took place in that neighbourhood on the evening of the 3d instant. A young man who was riding home to his estancia was attacked by three individuals who rushed out of a bed of thistles which was on the side of the road, just before the pass of the Arroyo. After robbing him of every thing they took his horse from him; he had to walk some fifteen squares before he could find a house.

It is important that our traders in the South should know that there is a gang of idle gauchos prowling about in the neighbourhood of Sanborombon, and parties travelling should go accompanied by others or travel in the diligence, otherwise it is more than probable they shall get robbed if not murdered. We call the attention of the authorities to this scandalous fact: only a few leagues from Buenos Ayres, in one of the most thickly populated partidos in the country the highway robbers hold sway, robbing in broad daylight.

The 'Nacional' on Foreigners

Our evening colleague, which of late has become rather moderate, treats its readers to an essay on the duties of foreign editors, and the subjects about which they should write. The 'Nacional' lays down, as a fixed rule, that foreigners should never meddle in the politics of the country, but confine their attention to cotton growing, sheep breeding, dry goods selling, &c.

Admitting, 'ab initio,' our utter disgust of Argentine politics, we should be most happy to escape them and adopt the course pointed out by our pedantic colleague; but, unhappily, owing to the struggles of faction, and the fighting of parties, politics are the only topics of interest. With a scandalous revolution raging in the neighbouring country, desolating the land, destroying millions of foreign property, and numerous foreign lives, is it to be supposed that we shall remain silent? The very idea is preposterous. In the city of New York, the English paper is one of the most influential journals of that city: it represents English interests, sentiments, and views. The 'New York Herald,' which is the 'Tribuna' of that city, has abused, defamed, and attacked it, with the most unceasing hostility; but it has, notwithstanding, flourished for years, and is one of the best supported papers in New York. Every epithet in the Yankee vocabulary of vituperation, has been hurled at it by the 'Herald,' but all in vain. It is regarded as the steady friend of the best interests of the country, and the sworn enemy of extreme opinion[illegible]

The "Stand[illegible]" in Buenos Ayres finds itself precisely in the same position as the New York Albion, with this difference, that whilst we only attack abuses, and preach down revolution and disorder, supporting the legal Government of the country, the English paper in New York abuses everything that is not English, or that tastes of Americanism.

The native papers in this city display the most uncompromising hostility to the "Standard," because it links itself with neither party. If we sought "Tribuna" or "Nacional" support, we have only to side to-morrow with Mr. Salsipuedes or Alsina, praise up Flores, refuse to pay the national creditors, oppose the passage of article 28, and in fine link ourselves with the party which we consider least calculated to advance the country.

The "Standard," however, sides with no party or clique, supports the Government, opposes revolution, preaches peace, cotton-growing, &c. If we meddle with politics, it is only when we we find it our imperative duty to interfere—when we witness our colleagues, or the representatives of the country, trying to propagate evils which the old world discountenances and the new should avoid.

THE PARANA MAILS.

We have the 'Progreso' from Corrientes, Nov. 1st. Municipal elections for various districts have been ordered to come off on Dec. 6th. The Governor petitions the Nat. Government to make arrangements with some banking firm of Buenos Ayres for the liquidation of Correntine currency at par. It is proposed to build a bridge over the San Lorenzo. Cotton-planting is all the rage, and thanks are returned to the Paraguayan Consul, Sor. Egusquiza, who presented the Governor with 3 sacks of seed. A band of amateur musicians is in training: the Mayo Club gave a grand ball.

There is nothing new from Paraná Carriego continues his extraordinary invectives against Pres. Mitre, in two articles "rumors of invasion" and "the rights of bondmen."

LATEST FROM ROSARIO.

Governor Cullen and his staff were about to leave Rosario, having terminated their visit, to return to Santa Fé The "Ferro-carril" sums up the following happy results: two bank-concessions granted, the municipality reformed; $20,000 provided for street-paving; subsidies given for building churches; and a contract made for lighting the town with gas.

The Mauá branch bank has issued a notice that it will pay gold for the Cordobese currency at the rate established by law. The two new banks to be started are, a branch of the London and River Plate, and one by a German firm both of emission.

The news from the Interior is void of interest. Dates from Cordoba are to the 30th ult. The newspaper war continues: the sale of public land at the upset price of $300 silver per league will come off about the 20th instant: it is situate within a few leagues of Mr. Wheelwright's railway route. There is nothing known of Paunero or the Chacho.

From Tucuman (18th Oct.) we learn that the Governor, Rev. Dr. Campos, was very ill, and likely to follow Molina of Mendoza, but happily remedies prevailed over the indisposition.

General Rojo with a company of Infantry set out for Catamarca to carry on the military operations in Rioja, with vigor: he will take command of the Tucuman cavalry and infantry now stationed at Camarca, under Alurralde

MONTEVIDEO.

The vulgar opinion is, that Flores has drawn off his forces from the river-board, and is marching through the interior direct to Montevideo. We have, however, no positive information as to whether he has yet crossed the Rio Negro: neither do we know Medina's movements, and the first intimation will probably be a shock or skirmish between the opposing vanguards. The complete disbandment of Moreno's army is confirmed by the news, in Friday's 'Reforma,' of that general having embarked on board the 'Treinta y Tres' with only 175 men, destination unknown. General Lamas arrived in town on Thursday, and the Government prevented the sailing of the 'Menay' same evening.

A Brazilian estanciero from Averias states that Flores' army amounts to 1000 men, of whom 100 are infantry: some are armed with rifles, others with carbines. There is a large number of Brazilians, but 40 are said to have deserted lately, taking a quantity of horned cattle. They often drive troops of horses towards the Brazilian frontier. The filibusters are represented as very badly clad, begging shirts and "chiripas," as they go along. With such ragged troops, however, Napoleon crossed the Simplon, and gained the victory of Montenotte.

Mme. Mollo has gained such sympathy in Montevideo that her likeness has been hung up in the saloon of Solis theatre, beside those of La Grange, Tamberlick, &c.

Young Liguori gives a piano-forte concert with the Opera Co: this evening at Solis. The 'Reforma' has a lampoon in verse against D. Mariano Varela's whiskers; this is the general style of S. American journalism.

The barricades are being again set up, although so lately taken down, and official reports represent Flores in Paysandu with 1400 men, en route for the capital.

BLACK-MAIL

THE 'TRIBUNA' SLANDERS

"A certain party" presented himself in the Maua Bank, Montevideo, requesting an interview with the Baron. On being ushered in, he stated that the slanders, which we referred to in yesterday's paper, would be published, unless a certain large sum of money was paid. The Baron had the imposter shown down stairs, without even condescending a reply.

CHIVILCOY RACES.

Our sporting friends should bear in mind that the great and long-talked-of Chivilcoy Races take place in that partido on to-day and this day week. They will come off in a stubble field at the Chacras. Some of the best native horses, we hear, will run.

S. AFRICAN RELIEF.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 7.

To the Editor of the Standard.

SIR—My attention has been called to an article in the 'Tribuna' of this morning, regarding the criticisms that have appeared in the 'Standard' on Doctor O'Reilly and the South African Mission. As I have never, either directly or indirectly, said anything derogatory to the character or mission of Dr. O'Reilly, I don't see why my name should be introduced at all. I believe Dr. O'Reilly to be a most respectable priest, and his mission a most laudable one. If I have not co-operated with him in the object of his mission here, it was owing to the great difficulties under which our own charitable institutions are labouring. Our Sisters of Mercy are depending entirely on the charity of the faithful; they are also endeavouring to support a considerable number of poor orphans. Then we are getting up an hospital, which at present contains several poor Irish girls and old men. These, with the continued appeals of poor immigrants, have left us considerably in debt, and consequently prevented me from aiding Dr. O'Reilly in his mission of charity. As to the articles that appeared in the 'Standard, I have never, either directly or indirectly, given any cause for them: nor is it true that I have ever advised the Editors of the 'Standard' as to the system of politics they should be guided by. I am no politician. I regret exceedingly that Dr. O'Reilly's feelings should be hurt by some uncalled for remarks that appeared in the 'Standard,' but his experience of the modern world must make some allowance for the liberty of the press.

It is enough for Dr. O'Reilly that he leaves Buenos Ayres with the respect that is due to his character.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

A. D. FAHY.

TRACTION ENGINE.

Yesterday a public trial was made at Chatham Dockyard of the new description of traction engine invented by Messrs. Aveling and Porter, of Rochester, which has been brought into use at the dockyard for conveying the machinery and other heavy materials used in the improvements in the works. The experiments were carried out under the inspection of Professor O. Beylich, of Kaiserslavtern, and a party of foreigners, who have been specially deputed to visit this country to report upon the invention previous to its introduction into Bavaria. Shortly before 2 o'clock three of the engines, each having a heavy load attached, started from Messrs. Aveling and Porter's works, on the Strood side of Rochester-bridge. The first engine weighed 12 tons, and was one of several on the eve of being shipped to Kingston, Jamaica, to be employed on the sugar growing estate of Messrs. Salmon and Co. Attached to the engine were two lorries, each containing three cast-iron girders, to be used in the works now in progress at the dockyard. The united weight of the girders was 18 tons, and of the two trucks 5 tons. To the second engine were attached five empty lorries, each weighing 2½ tons, and constructed to carry 7 tons each. The last engine was one which had taken three prizes, and to this was attached a large steam thrashing-machine, and some other agricultural machinery. The three engines with their loads started away over Rochester-bridge and through the narrow streets of the town towards the dockyard, the speed varying from two to four miles an hour. The ascent of Star-hill, which has an incline of 1 in 12, was made by all three engines with their respective loads, without the least apparent difficulty, and without any stoppage, the rate being two miles and a half per hour. In the passage through the crowded roads at Chatham to the dockyard no inconvenience whatever was experienced, the engines adapting themselves to every variety of road, and travelling with an uniform rate of speed. Attached to one of the engines is an appliance for loading and unloading heavy weights, and on the train of trucks being stopped the engine was detached and brought round to the trucks conveying the girders, when, by means of the lifting apparatus, the latter were lifted from the lorries and deposited in the spot selected for them. Each of the engines tried yesterday started from the factory with a stock of 10 cwt. of coals, which is sufficient for eight hours' consumption. The trials were pronounced in all respects satisfactory.

MISCELLANY.

DANGEROUS JESTING.—Some American ladies were jesting with each other, when one of them accused a Baltimore lady of being a rebel. A duel was jestingly proposed. Pistols were brought, distances were measured in the room, the ladies took their places, word was given, one, two, three, when the lady who had called the other 'rebel,' said, 'I will sit in this chair, as I wish to die easy.' Word was again given, and the Baltimore lady, who had a self cocking pistol, pulled the trigger, and bang went the pistol, a piercing scream was heard, and in an instant the room was filled with the members of the family, when it was discovered that two of the ladies had swooned; the Baltimore lady was standing motionless, and the one who wished to 'die easy,' sitting pale with terror in her chair; one ball had passed through her dress on the left side, grazing the skin, while in the leaf of a table, on which she rested her arm, were eight distinct shot-holes, and one bullet embedded in the wood. The pistol had been loaded by a boy on the 4th of July, but the charge had not been fired.

SINGULAR SUPERSTITION—The Chinese have a great objection to serve as models, notwithstanding the good pay they receive for a task which is by no means an arduous one. This antipathy originates in a superstitious notion they have that, ere the picture is finished, the sitter must fall ill or die.

NOVEL MODE OF FLAVOURING EGGS.—Our host gave us each a hard-boiled turkey's egg, which we found extremely palatable, as we were very hungry. They adopt a queer method here with their eggs, which are placed under a hen for two or three days before eating them, as they think it improves the flavour.

The island of Monte Christo, which owes its celebrity to Alexandre Dumas' popular novel, has just been chosen by the Italian Government as a penal settlement.

The fund for the Stonewall Jackson Monument amounts to £1,500. Mr. Foley is to be intrusted with its execution, and it is to be sent to the Confederates—when we can get it there, namely, after the war.

A NEW YORK MURDER.— Mayor Bassford, who shot T. Donnelly a few days days ago, has been acquitted. So has his colonel, Mott. This regiment was stationed in the Nineteenth Ward, near Eighty-sixth street. Mr. Donnelly, who was one of our most respected citizens, had been out to a pic-nic with some members of a Catholic church. He stopped on his return at one of the little three cent. groggeries near the eighty sixty street. Colonel Mott was walking about the vicinity. "I'll ask that Lincoln chap to drink," said poor Donnelly. "Major Bassford, shoot the Irish pauper," was the reply. Major Bassford fired his pistol at Donnelly, who lived until yesterday—twenty-four hours. The coroner whose duty it was to hold an inquest, has probably been in the habit of drinking in that neighbourhood, and probably is aware what horrid poisonous stuff it is, acquitted both officers, probably on the ground that to ask an officer to drink the rubbish made it justifiable to shoot him. Donnelly was a first lieutenant in Corcoran's regiment, and served at Bull's Run. He was buried from 68, Catherine-street, where he lived, and where he leaves a wife and four children. Such a pleasant little affair as this will endear the soldiers to our citizens, and when the feelings of love culminate, will end in a general massacre of one side or the other. New York Letter.

EXTRAORDINARY, IF TRUE.—In 1844 a young man left a village near Chamouny, on a pilgrimage to the Convent of St. Bernard, in consequence of a vow made before gaining the belle of the village. After leaving the Convent, he went to several places and bought some linen with the intention of smuggling it across the Sardinian frontier. To do this he had to go by an unfrequented track. He started on his perilous journey, and was never heard of again until a few weeks ago, when a shepherd, who had lost his way, on jumping across a deep glacier saw a wonderful sight. The rays of the sinking sun illuminated a gulf of ice, looking like a vast crystal cavern, in the midst of which was the figure of a man, lying flat on his back, with apparently open eyes, and hands folded across his breast, and with a large parcel serving as a pillow, under his head. The shepherd hallooed at the top of his voice, and then screamed; but not a voice answered from below. At break of dawn next morning a party of mountaineers, guided by the shepherd, and provided with ropes and axes, set out for the spot. The crystal sarcophagus was soon found, and the boldest of company was let down to the icy depths, from which he brought in his arms the body of a young man, frozen, and hard as a stone, yet looking still fresh and lifelike. Attached to the corpse, by a mass of ice, was a parcel containing a new piece of linen; while a watch, in the coat-pocket of the dead man, with broken glass, but not otherwise damaged, showed the hour of noon. Two elderly peasants at once recognized the features of the pilgrim of Passy, misteriously lost nineteen years ago. Embalmed in ice, decay had not yet touched his flesh, and he had laid undisturbed in his crystal coffin while a generation of men passed away over his head. The pilgrim, dead nineteen years, was carried to his former home, and left at the cottage of the young widow of Passy—now young no more, but an elderly grey-haired woman. The son who had never before seen his his father, made him a wooden coffin, and, to honour his memory kept the body lying in state for twenty-four hours.

S. AFRICAN MISSION.—We refer our readers to a letter from the esteemed and very reverend head of the Irish congregation, in another column. We hope this will end the matter, as it is absurd for the S. African collectors to be spending $4 0 daily in the 'Tribuna' merely to attack the 'Standard.'

SUDDEN DEATH.—We are sorry to say that, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Carnaval, the 'medidor' of the Custom House, dropped dead in the Plaza Victoria. The cause is not as yet known. Mr. Carnaval was a man respected by every one who knew him, and his loss will be much regretted.

ON 'CHANGE

November 7.

The Bolsa was crowded to-day, and a good deal of business done. Ounces display a remarkable firmness, with a steady upward tendency for the end of the year. They opened to-day at 438½, and rose to 439½, at which price some 2000 or 3000 ounces were sold. They closed, however, at 438. Cash sales, 6976.

The steady depreciation of paper money for the end of the year is attracting general attention, defeating, 'in toto,' all the calculations of our merchants, and many of our most distinguished brokers; that gold should be so high as 436, on the 31st of December, is certainly an enigma to us all: it is the period when paper is most in demand, and doubloons less required. We can only account for this strange attitude of our specie market, by crediting the story current respecting a combination amongst the brokers to force papermoney down, in consequence of the rejection of the Loan Bill.

The wool market is beginning to look a little better. A sale was made to-day at 95; the lot was small, 3 0 arrobes, but in very superior condition; it came from the partido of Mercedes.

In the South Plaza there has been another very heavy arrival. Twelve carts of fine Mestiza wool, belonging to Sr. Fernandez. This wool was not sold, but sent immediately to the barraca, as the wealthy proprietor prefers to sell his wool altogether, some 10,000 arrobes, and not in separate lots.

The statement which we published in another column respecting the black mail attempted to be levied from the Baron Maua was talked of freely on the Bolsa, and created not the slightest surprise; many wished to know the exact sum demanded, in order to find out the price current in calle Victoria this year.

Collections were said to be rather good to-day, the shopkeepers having an abundance of paper; gold is however very scarce about town, and cannot be found except at the banks or the Bolsa.

Some ten thousand pounds sterling was drawn on England to-day, and passed at 67. We are informed there are more drawers than takers.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.

Dir.—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English school where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French, and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

For particulars apply for prospectuses at the Standard Office, Calle Belgrano 74.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & C°.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days; and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.

WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p $\frac{0}{0}$] per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
